customer outreach and ensuring timely delivery of fresh and processed fish products.

The beneficiary also shared that he has successfully ventured into fish value addition by processing locally available prawns from Diglipur. The prawns are cleaned, frozen, vacuum-packed, and supplied directly to customers, yielding enhanced returns. The kiosk has contributed significantly to his livelihood, enabling him to generate a stable income while promoting quality fish products within the community.

The Deputy Commissioner visited the non-operational Ice Plant owned by Shri Binod Hawalader, son of Shri Bibhisan Hawalader. During the visit, the beneficiary informed the Deputy Commissioner that the plant has ceased operations due to the high electricity tariff, which has rendered its functioning economically unviable. He requested the introduction of agricultural subsidy rates for electricity tariffs, emphasizing that such a measure would benefit similar facilities facing closure due to unsustainable energy costs.

The Deputy Commissioner expressed his appreciation for the beneficiary's entrepreneurial approach and commended the Department of Fisheries for effectively implementing PMMSY and facilitating meaningful livelihood opportunities for fishers and fish farmers in the Diglipur region. He remarked that such initiatives exemplify the transformative potential of Government schemes when combined with innovation, technology-driven marketing, and value-addition practices, a press release from Fisheries Department said.

K. Karthik

Missing you more with each passing day. The silence is deafening without your voice, the moments feel incomplete without your presence. It's been [number] years since you left us, but the pain of your absence remains the same. Your memories haunt me, yet I'm grateful for the time we had. I wish I could turn back time, spend more moments with you and hear your loving words one more time. Until we meet again, my love, stay close to me in my dreams and memories. Missing you forever.
