Govt. taking sustained measures towards exploring & identifying crude oil and hydrocarbon reserves in Andaman-Nicobar basin

Allocates four blocks for oil and gas exploration covering approx. 23,261 Sq Km

New Delhi, Aug. 18 (PIB)

Government is taking sustained measures towards exploring and identifying crude oil and hydrocarbon reserves in the Andaman-Nicobar basin so that they can contribute to the country's long term energy security and reduce import dependence. Following the introduction of the Hydrocarbon Exploration and Licensing Policy (HELP), the Government has allocated four blocks for oil and gas exploration in the Andaman-Nicobar Basin, covering approximately 23,261 square kilometers (SKM). Exploratory efforts have resulted in the acquisition of 8,501-line kilometers of 2-Dimensional (2D) seismic data and 3,270 SKM of

3D seismic data in these blocks and three wells have been drilled in these blocks so far. Furthermore, under Open Acreage Licensing Policy (OALP) - X, four blocks with a total area of 47,058 sq. km have been offered in the Andaman Basin.

India's Hydrocarbon Resource Assessment Study (HRAS) estimates hydrocarbon resources of 371 million Metric Tons of Oil Equivalent (MMTOE) in the AN Basin. Subsequent to HRAS 2017, a 2D broadband seismic survey has been completed in 2024 covering approximately 80,000 line kilometers of India's Exclusive Economic Zone (including in Andaman offshore). This has helped acquiring the essential sub-surface data required for identifying prospective hydrocarbon reserves. Government through Oil India Limited (OIL) has also acquired a total of 22,555 Line Kilometer (LKM) of 2D seismic data in Deep Andaman Offshore Survey during 2021-22.

Geologically, the AN basin lies at the intersection of the Andaman and Nicobar Basins, part of the Bengal-Arakan sedimentary system. The tectonic setting at the boundary of the Indian and Burmese

Two more mortuary vans for Katchal & Chowra and are in transit at Kamorta for handing over to respective Tribal Councils

Sri Vijaya Puram, Aug. 18

Acting upon the assurance given by the Administration, during Chief Secretary's visit to Harminder Bay in April 2025, the District Administration, Nicobar through ITDP has successfully fulfilled the long-standing demand of the Tribal Council by providing a mortuary van for the Sub-Tribal Council, Harminder Bay. The Chief Secretary had acknowledged the urgent need for such a facility during his field visit to Harminder Bay and promptly directed the District Administration to take necessary action. The Nicobar District Administration ensured timely procurement and deployment of the vehicle.

Yesterday, the mortuary van was formally handed over to the Secretary, Sub-Tribal Council, Harminder Bay by

of this region.

Two more mortuary vans have been procured by ITDP for Katchal and Chowra and are in transit at Kamorta for handing over to the respective Tribal Councils.

Active case finding for TB conducted at Chowra Island

Chowra, Aug. 18

As part of the TB Mukht Bharat Abhiyaan, TB screening of vulnerable populations in mission mode was conducted under the direction of Shri Amit Kale, IAS, Deputy Commissioner, Nicobar District and under the supervision of Dr. Anwar Moosa, District TB Officer, Nicobar District. The initiative aimed to strengthen early detection and treatment of tuberculosis in remote island communities.

A dedicated medical team comprising Dr. M.A. Tanzeer (Medical Officer, CHC Nancowry), Dr. Priyanka Samuel (Medical Officer, PHC Teresa) and others conducted Active Case Finding (ACF) at Chowra Island from 6th to 10th August, 2025. The exercise covered the Island's total population of 1,537, screening 421 vulnerable individuals and collecting 45 CBNAAT samples for TB testing.

Alongside screening, awareness sessions were organised to educate the community on TB prevention, early diagnosis and the importance of completing treatment. The Tribal Secretary and Village Headman actively supported the campaign by motivating residents to participate. Sick and bed-ridden patients were identified, provided with medical care and assured of regular follow-up.

and strategic center in the Indo-Pacific region. This plan involves creating world-class infrastructure, including high-end resorts, and expanding the region's connectivity to attract both tourists and investors alike.

Key to this transformation is the establishment of luxury resorts on several of the islands, aimed at attracting affluent travelers seeking exclusive, high-end experiences. Alongside this, the introduction of seaplane services under the UDAN-5.5 initiative will make it easier for tourists to reach remote islands, unlocking new destinations within the archipelago. With the completion of three new water aerodromes slated for September, the region is set to experience a leap in connectivity, making the islands even more accessible for travelers.

Sustainability at the Core of Development

Amidst all this growth, sustainability remains at the heart of the region's development strategy. The local administration has set an ambitious goal to achieve 100% renewable energy usage by 2029, ensuring that the islands grow in harmony with their environment. This commitment to green energy reflects the region's broader vision of balancing modernization with environmental preservation.

The Great Nicobar Island project is a prime example of this commitment. This large-scale initiative aims to combine modern infrastructure development with sustainable practices, including renewable energy, water conservation, and eco-friendly waste management. The project sets a benchmark for how development can be both forward-thinking and eco-conscious, serving as a model for other regions looking to integrate sustainability into their growth plans.

Attracting Investment and Enhancing Connectivity

To further drive its economic ambitions, the Andaman and Nicobar Islands are rolling out incentives to attract investments and strengthen regional connectivity. One key strategy is offering tax exemptions on aviation turbine fuel to international airlines, which will encourage greater air travel to the region. These measures are designed to not only increase the number of tourists visiting the islands but also foster business activity and international trade.

Moreover, investments in the Integrated Development Authority (IDA) projects have surpassed Rs 1.5 lakh crore, showcasing growing confidence in the islands' economic potential. This funding is expected to enhance infrastructure, develop new facilities, and create new industries, boosting the overall economic landscape of the region.

A Bright Future for the Islands

As the Andaman and Nicobar Islands continue their transformation, they are poised to become a shining example of sustainable development, innovative tourism, and strategic growth. The region's future looks promising, with continued investments in infrastructure, a focus on renewable energy, and a growing tourism industry. These efforts will not only enhance the islands' position as a leading tourist destination but will also secure their role as a vital economic and strategic hub in the Indo-Pacific. The Andaman and Nicobar Islands are on track to offer a unique blend of natural beauty, modern development, and environmental responsibility, ensuring their place as a model for future growth in the region. plates have created numerous stratigraphic traps conducive to hydrocarbon accumulation. The basin's geological promise is further amplified by its proximity to prove petroleum systems in Myanmar and North Sumatra. Global interest in the AN basin has been rekindled following significant gas discoveries in South Andaman offshore in Indonesia, highlighting geological continuity across this region.

Each sedimentary basin possesses distinct geological characteristics, hydrocarbon system dynamics, prospectivity, and development challenges, making direct comparison across basins inherently limited. Consequently, economic and strategic assessments are undertaken in the context of basin-specific parameters, rather than on a like-for-like comparative basis, to ensure realistic evaluation and policy decision-making.
