Transport Deptt. organizes Road Safety ...

(Contd. from page 1)
Court of India has constituted a Committee to oversee the road safety scenario in the country on a day to day basis. Students from the schools of nearby locality performed a Nukkad Natak showcasing the importance of observing road safety rules and losses, if these rules are not followed properly. The Secretary (Transport) therefore urged all present in the camp to understand the message given by the students through the beautifully executed street play and follow them in their life.
The Transport Department has conducted such road safety awareness camps in many different clusters and will continue to create awareness amongst the road users by conducting more and more awareness camps at different places. The Secretary (Transport) also mentioned that the benchmark for the success of this camp can be assessed by the fact that a good number of school students have not only attended the camps, but also sincerely participated in all the activities related to road safety, thereby enhancing their awareness on making the roads safer.
The Secretary (Transport) further stated that the goal of the Chief Secretary is to bring to the door steps of citizens, all the services rendered by Government Departments and the second aspect of the awareness camp is to provide all the services of Transport Department related to driver licensing, fitness and registration related activities of motor vehicles, road tax, permits, operation of bus service etc. to the citizen in the camp itself. He requested all the participants to benefit from the services provided by the Department in the Camp. He concluded with the remarks that the mission on road safety will only be successful with the active and constructive participation from the society.
Dr. Jatinder Sohal, Director (Transport) while addressing the gathering appealed to all road users to follow traffic laws in true spirit, which is the sign of any better society. He requested the gathering to make the road safety a part of life and share knowledge on road safety with others. While appreciating the Nukkad Nataks, he stated that the Nataks highlighted important aspects on road safety. He said that whatever is learned from the awareness camp will not only be useful to them but will also be passed on to the family as well as to others in the society so that they can also be made aware on road safety. He stressed that road safety is an important issue that should be talked about and should be cultivated in nature & family as one fatal accident causes untold sufferings to the whole family of the deceased. He advised all the road users to avoid using mobile phones while driving and desist from the habit of drunken driving. Concluding the address, he stated that such awareness camps will be held at regular intervals and requested the villagers to share their grievances and suggestions towards the services provided by Transport Department which will promptly be addressed.
The Deputy Director (Transport), welcomed the gathering and highlighted the importance of traffic laws. He advised citizens to follow the traffic rules to bring down road accident fatalities in the UT.
Representative from Education Department also shared with the participants the safety rules in detail which are to be practiced by every road users whether they are driving the vehicles or while walking on the road.
The Zilla Parishad member, Wimberlygunj highlighted the importance of the awareness camp and requested for arranging more such camps in future for the benefit of the local population. He appreciated the effort of Transport Department for organizing the awareness camp and extending all the services of Transport Department to the citizens directly in the camp. The Pradhan, Wimberlygunj Panchayat proposed the vote of thanks.
As part of the camp, events like painting and quiz competitions for school children were also organized, which saw participation by enthusiastic students from 11 schools who showed their talent as well as knowledge on road safety. In the camp, facility was also provided for pollution testing of motor vehicles and 213 vehicles were checked for pollution certification. A total of 279 learner’s licenses were issued and fitness inspection on 15 vehicles were carried out. The facility of medical checkup was also provided in the camp for the license related activities. More than 500 people availed the services of Transport Department in the camp. During the camp, cash prizes and certificates were distributed to the winners of painting, quiz competitions and nukkad nataks.
The Transport Department has been taking such activities to make the lives of citizen safer and such programs will continue for promoting road safety awareness among the general public and to bring transport services at the doorsteps of citizens, a press release from Transport Deptt. said.
