PS Pahargaon ranked 2nd Best Police Station in India for its citizen-centric policing & professional investigations

Sri Vijaya Puram, Dec. 2

The Ministry of Home Affairs, Government of India, has recently announced the national ranking of Police Stations under its annual "Best Police Stations" evaluation scheme in the recently concluded DGP/IGP Conference at IIM Raipur. Police Station Pahargaon, South Andaman District has achieved a remarkable distinction by securing the 2nd Rank at the All-India level in this prestigious assessment. This recognition is the result of a rigorous, objective, and multi-layered evaluation process conducted by the Ministry, using standardized national indicators.

The assessment covers several critical areas, including crime prevention and detection-such as crimes against women, crimes against weaker sections, property offences, missing and unidentified persons, and the quality and timeliness of investigations. It also evaluates FIR disposal and charge-sheeting efficiency. Service delivery and public-friendliness are key factors, with criteria like accessibility and responsiveness of police personnel, their behavior and discipline, ease of registering complaints, and independently collected citizen feedback. Infrastructure and station management are assessed through cleanliness, maintenance, public facilities, security arrangements, condition of lockups and record rooms, communication facilities, and overall safety standards. Additionally, digital policing and record management are considered, focusing on proper documentation, use of technology, and mechanisms for accountability and transparency.

The achievement of 2nd Rank by Police Station Pahargaon is attributed to the consistent hard work, professional integrity, disciplined functioning, and community-oriented policing demonstrated by its officers and staff. The Police Station has taken strong action against drug peddling and theft cases. Notably, all property
