This observance also aims to inspire the youth to actively engage in the electoral process, reaffirming India's commitment to Universal Adult Franchise.

I urge every citizen of these Islands, who has turned 18 years old by January 1, 2025, to enroll as a voter in the Electoral Roll. Citizens reaching the age of 18 by April 1, July 1 or October 1, 2025, may also submit an advance application for voter registration. I also call upon all to exercise their right to vote when the time comes.

It is with great pleasure that I share that, through consistent efforts, Andaman & Nicobar Islands now boasts an electoral roll of 3,11,506 voters, following the revision published on January 6th. Of these, 1,50,276 are women voters.

This year's theme, "Nothing Like Voting, I vote for Sure," emphasizes inclusivity and encourages the participation of women, youth, Persons with Disabilities (PwDs), senior citizens, transgender individuals, service voters, overseas Indians and other marginalized groups. I am confident that the residents of these Islands will enthusiastically embrace this call, playing a pivotal role in realizing this theme and contributing to the ongoing strength and inclusivity of Indian democracy.

The right to vote is a cornerstone of democracy, and every vote counts in shaping our collective future.

I extend my warmest greetings to all on this significant occasion. Let us celebrate our democratic rights and responsibilities with renewed commitment.
