awareness sessions on agriculture and various line department schemes, wherein farmers were sensitized about Government initiatives aimed at improving agricultural productivity, income, and access to resources. To promote scientific farming, Soil Health Cards were distributed to farmers by the chief guest. These Cards will enable farmers to understand the nutrient status of their soil and adopt better crop management practices. Progressive farmers Shri Golak Chandra Biswas and Shri Kamlesh Mazumder shared their views.

For the convenience of the farmers, dedicated counters were set up for distribution and collection of scheme forms, farmer registry data collection, dispensing of scheme-related leaflets and brochures, biofertilizers, organic growth hormones etc. were displayed. In an engaging segment of the program, a quiz competition was organized for farmers to encourage learning and participation. Winners were rewarded with planting materials of cinnamon and Vermicompost packets as well, to encourage them to diversify and enhance their agricultural practices.

The Assistant Director (Agriculture) welcomed the gathering and highlighted the vision of the 'Viksit Krishi Sankalp Abhiyan' and the Government's commitment to farmer welfare and sustainable agricultural practices.

The Viksit Krishi Sankalp Abhiyan in Ramakrishnapur proved to be an informative and inspiring event that aligned with the Government's vision of transforming rural agriculture and empowering farmers with the knowledge and support they need to thrive, a press release from Assistant Director (Agri.), Little Andaman said.

initial six-month placement, Justina quickly proved her capabilities. She adapted to the fast-paced healthcare environment, gaining hands-on experience and refining her skills. She earned recognition for her hard work, paving the way for even greater opportunities.

Justina's growing expertise led her to a new role at Sparsh Hospitals, a well renowned chain of multi-specialty hospital based at Bengaluru. While getting enhanced financial package, her new role reinforced her passion for healthcare and her ability to make a real difference in people's lives. Speaking to the Block Development Officer, Nancowry while sharing her experience, she expressed eagerness that more of her people from the region onboard the programme and make professional development in their lives. She even volunteered to participate in village-wise mobilization drives to raise awareness and motivate others in remote communities to pursue similar life-changing opportunities.

Justina's story is a shining example of how the right guidance and perseverance can transform lives. From discovering the DDU-GKY scheme to becoming a skilled healthcare professional in Bengaluru, her journey serves as an inspiration to many. Her success highlights the importance of skill development programs in empowering youth, especially from rural areas, to achieve financial independence and professional success. Justina stands as a role model, proving that with the right mindset and support, anyone can overcome obstacles and reach new heights, a press release from BDO, Nancowrie said.
