The other members of the team include Wing Commanders Rajesh Kajla, Arjun Patel, Kuldeep Hooda and Allen George, along with Squadron Leaders Jasdeep Singh, Himkhush Chandel, Ankit Vashisth, Vishnu, Diwakar Sharma, Gaurav Patel, Edward Prince and Lalit Verma. The technical team, led by Wing Commander Abhimanyu Tyadi, is supported by Squadron Leader Sandeep Dhayal and Flight Lieutenant Manil Sharma. The team's commentator and administrator is Flight Lieutenant Kanwal Sandhu, while Squadron Leader Sudharshan serves as the Medical Officer.

An indigenous innovation has enhanced the team's visual appeal-smoke pods capable of producing the three colours of the National Flag, developed at an IAF base 11 Base Repair Depot. This modification adds a patriotic dimension to their already impressive repertoire. While SKAT has enthralled audiences at air shows and official events, its performance at Aero India 2025 and recently at Bangkok, Thailand celebrating the 88th anniversary of the Royal Thai Air Force remain unforgettable and globally appreciated.

This air show is a tribute to India's aviation excellence, inspiring the youth and igniting a deep sense of patriotism. The event is free of cost and all residents of Andaman and Nicobar Islands, especially children, have been cordially invited to witness this thrilling spectacle.

As SKAT takes to the skies, the public have been requested to maintain cleanliness at the venue to prevent bird hazards, ensuring a safe and mesmerizing performance. Food vendors and visitors have been urged to dispose of waste responsibly to minimize bird activity in the area. Their cooperation is essential in ensuring a safe and thrilling spectacle as the daredevils of the IAF dazzle the skies, a press release from HQ ANC said.

celebrating the efforts of women who have transformed their lives and communities, achieving financial independence and contributing significantly to local development.

In his address, the Secretary (RD), commended the efforts of the women for their remarkable achievements and emphasized the Government's continued commitment to supporting women empowerment in all sectors. He remarked that these 16 Lakhpati Didis are shining examples of how women can overcome barriers, create opportunities, and inspire others.

Earlier, Smt. Reshma Singh, SPM, ANIRLM welcomed the gathering and emphasized the importance of empowering women and supporting their journey towards self-reliance. She also highlighted the role of the Directorate in providing resources and creating opportunities for women in rural areas.

As part of the celebration, a series of exciting and engaging games and competitions were organized by the staff of the Directorate of Rural Development. Women from different parts of the Islands came together to showcase their talents and leadership in a spirit of friendly competition. Among the many activities, traditional Rangoli competitions stood out, fostering both cultural appreciation and a sense of unity among participants.

The event concluded with a vote of thanks by Shri Bijoy Kumar Das, Extension Officer. This initiative marks a significant step towards recognizing and empowering women across the blocks, providing them with a platform to shine and contribute positively to the development of their communities, a press release from ANIRLM said.
